

Tesreau and Barnes, Pitching in Mid-Season Form Repeat Over Fohl's Indians

GIANTS TAKE LEAD IN SPRING SERIES

Go to Front by Defeating Cleveland by Score of 5 to 1—Pitchers Puzzle Indians.

Special Dispatch to The Sun.
CHICAGO, Tenn., April 12.—Despite cold weather, the Giants and Cleveland Indians resumed operations today, the Giants winning the first game of the set by a score of 5 to 1. For the first time since the series started New York has the edge on the series. It now stands, three to two in favor of the Giants. One game ended in a tie. The Cleveland must win tomorrow to make it an even break. The Giants are the only National League team which has managed to hold its own with an American League spring opponent.

Before the regularly scheduled Cleveland game a team consisting of Giants and Cleveland scrubs, with Schupp and George Smith pitching and with other players, won by a score of 6 to 0. Schupp was especially well pleased to see something of his old team.

The fact that he is now able to take his turn in the box means a great deal to the team.

Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

They were well high in the air. Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

They were well high in the air. Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

They were well high in the air. Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

They were well high in the air. Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

They were well high in the air. Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

They were well high in the air. Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

They were well high in the air. Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

They were well high in the air. Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

They were well high in the air. Tesreau and Barnes, who shut out the Indians with one hit last Sunday, still have the same magic woven over the Cleveland bunch. To-day this combination permitted only two hits to the Indians, one of which was a home run.

GEN. MANN TO THROW OUT BALL

Will Officiate at Opening of Season at Polo Grounds.

Major-General William A. Mann, Commander of the Department of the East at Fort Belvoir, Tenn., has accepted President Hemphreys' invitation to throw out the first ball at the Polo Grounds next Tuesday, when the Giants and Cleveland Indians open the National League baseball season in this city.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

The Mayor formerly was asked to throw out the first ball, but this year it was believed that his presence would be more appropriate for the role, so an invitation was extended to Gen. Mann.

STORM WELCOMES YANKS AND DODGERS

Postponement of Game Here Pleases Robins, but Disappoints Huggins' Men.

By GEORGE B. UNDERWOOD.
"If it stops raining by morning," said Charles H. Ebbets, Jr., secretary of the Brooklyn club, over the telephone last night, "I think Groundkeeper George Landquist and his assistants will be able to put the field in shape for the game between the Yankees and the Dodgers tomorrow. He has a half dozen barrels of gasoline ready to burn off the diamond."

Manager Wilbert Robinson of the Dodgers was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Yankees was not quite so optimistic. He said that his players were shorted after noon yesterday. Robbin's men were disappointed.

REISLER LOSES TO DEMPHY. TITLE SWIM WON BY MISS GALLIGAN

Beaten in "100."

Miss Claire Galligan of New Rochelle, women's national middle distance swimming champion and holder of several metropolitan titles and records, last night added another national championship to her long list when she won the 220 yard swim in the Central Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn. This and another title events were staged in conjunction with the Central Y. M. C. A.'s monthly meet.

The New Rochelle girl in gaining the honors swam one of the best races of her career. She came from behind and won by a margin of one yard. Her time was 3 minutes 34 seconds.

Miss Galligan will be given credit for an American record, as this is the best time ever made by a girl for the distance in a twenty-five foot tank. Miss Charlotte Boyle, unattached, the metropolitan fifty yard champion, finished second. She swam in 1 minute 34 seconds.

Quite a surprise was sprung in the 100 yard national championship for men when Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer, won by a margin of one yard. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

TITLE SWIM WON BY MISS GALLIGAN

Beaten in "100."

Miss Claire Galligan of New Rochelle, women's national middle distance swimming champion and holder of several metropolitan titles and records, last night added another national championship to her long list when she won the 220 yard swim in the Central Y. M. C. A. of Brooklyn. This and another title events were staged in conjunction with the Central Y. M. C. A.'s monthly meet.

The New Rochelle girl in gaining the honors swam one of the best races of her career. She came from behind and won by a margin of one yard. Her time was 3 minutes 34 seconds.

Miss Galligan will be given credit for an American record, as this is the best time ever made by a girl for the distance in a twenty-five foot tank. Miss Charlotte Boyle, unattached, the metropolitan fifty yard champion, finished second. She swam in 1 minute 34 seconds.

Quite a surprise was sprung in the 100 yard national championship for men when Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer, won by a margin of one yard. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

The only other title, the senior metropolitan plunging championship, was won by Cyril Carroll, an unattached swimmer. Carroll, who holds the metropolitan record for this event, swam in 1 minute 17 seconds.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SHADOWS IN ALL SPHERES OF SPORT

By DANIEL.

THE Yankees are here and if appearance count for anything they are one of the few major league squads really fit for a championship battle. They had a lot of luck with the weather at Macon and are further advanced in their training than most of the other teams. It was because of this condition and a reverse state among the Braves that the Yankees were able to outclass their National League rivals in their series.

Huggins hopes that the Yankees do not slip back physically and that they develop a better balance in their batting. With the improvement and any kind of rally to their pitchers the club should make a fine record. Huggins expects a lot from Monroe, who was with the club last year. Bill Donovan last spring declared that Monroe was the logical successor to Ray Caldwell as the club's pitching ace. If the young man develops control he may beat out that prediction.

The great variance in condition among the major league clubs is going to bring about a topsy-turvy state in the early part of the season. Some clubs are likely to rub out with terrific bursts of speed only to hit the toboggan when the more formidable aggregations of ball players hit their stride. Take the case of the White Sox. The world champions are reported to be in very poor condition. Their star pitchers—Clellie and Faber—have not been going well at all. They have been marked for every bush league outfit encountered. For several weeks the team was the football of the famous champions, and Houston earned the distinction of handing them three shutouts in a row. The other day the Sox did succeed in winning a game. They barely scored a decision over the University of Oklahoma. No doubt for several weeks the Sox will flounder about trying to hit their stride. Once in their normal gait they should have no trouble in staying in front.

In the ball players who are "ready to go into service." We get many communications every day, most of them worth printing, but because of the limited space it is impossible to do so. Every once in a while we are prompted to make an exception and will. Yesterday's contributions included a rather pungent effort in re ball players and others who announce they are ready to go into service. Here's the note:

"It is both amusing and irritating to read the stories that come up from the training camps, telling from time to time what Kauff and others of his clan propose to do in regard to the draft. From the motif of the stories sent out it seems that 'Kauff Willing to Go—Has No Objections to the Draft' has been the subject matter for many thousands of words. It is perfectly ridiculous that any attempt at all be made to give Binnie premature praise for being drafted and not claiming exemption because one of his arms happens to be a millimeter or so shorter than the other. It is ridiculous also that 'Kauff is Willing to Go' because he has no objection to the draft. He is a draftsman, and to those who have seen the illustrations of the draft law it is silly to presume that Kauff wouldn't have to go, unless he so desired. Then, why and whence all the talk about Binnie being patriotic?"

"Patriotism is an arbitrary thing. Like beauty, and what one man considers patriotism another does not. But the idea of supposing a man to be patriotic because he doesn't seek exemption when he has no valid claim for the same is not only absurd, but the very thing which objection will lead nowhere seems to me to be carrying the point too far."

A good deal of space was given Bob Shawkey recently when he was notified he had been placed in Class A by his local draft board. There were loud chirps and many words were said about Bob's being brave and that he was going to be an aviator. Now where did Shawkey turn up?

"The situation is getting to the point now where every ball player who is drafted is being honored. This is because he doesn't kick against the draft. Space that might just as well be given over to a handball match is given to those lion hearted jacks and players who are 'thinking' of enlisting. It's been almost a year since the great Ty was going to enlist and looking them over? Is it necessary to slant every military unit in the country before one enlists? That is the question, and if they are compared to Jess Willard, yet in view of all this 'patriotic' bunk I cannot help but remember that last spring Willard told me personally that he hadn't asked any recruiting officer whether he might join the service. At that time, as you know, a report had come in from Chicago saying Willard had been turned down because of his weight and height. Willard four flushed and backed out by saying he had a couple of marines he'd seen on the streets and he told him he was too big. Everybody tries to capitalize the Cohen stuff and wave the old flag till it's worn out, but in the meantime Hank Gowdy is taking a real chance."

New Irish Heavyweight Is Located in Chicago. Some time ago we published an item from an Irish paper, in which it was stated that Pat Kietly, the weight thrower and jumper, had gone to America in quest of Jess Willard's championship. Search for Kietly in local circles failed to locate him. Kietly, the "professor" of Kietly, has been located in Chicago. Kietly has the makings of a great fighter and he is willing to send him against Cawley. Smith and the like right now.

Kietly is 25 years of age and was born in Shanballymore, Galway, Ireland. His father was a weight thrower of note, having won many contests here as well as in Ireland. Kietly competed for prizes in big contests in his home country and also in the United States. He is six feet one inch in height and weighs 200 pounds. At Chicago last year he beat Leahy in a jumping contest. He makes thirty-nine feet in a three standing jump, and his record with a fifty-five pound weight is fifteen feet four inches for height.

Gilmore has been tutoring Kietly in private for the last six months, and this is the first time the veteran fighter and coach has taken any interest in a fighter outside of his own school.

Kid Williams, once bantam champion, announces his intention of becoming a baseball player, and expresses the opinion that he is a tidy performer with ball and bat. It by no means is certain that Williams would not be a success as a professional ball player. Details of numerous boxing bouts in which he has engaged since he lost the title to Pete Herman indicate that the Baltimorean exhibited excellent facilities in stopping all kinds of punches with his left hand. It might not be amiss to try out the former champion at the shortstop position.

Ping Bodie announces that he is "off" all baseball writers after this. Just before a recent game Ping bet one of the scribes $10 he would get three or more hits. On his first time up Ping pushed a Texas leaguer into left and laughingly informed the writer, "That's one of them." On his next three times up, however, Ping came up with a man on ahead and was ordered to surrender. The being no conditions attached to the bet Ping was made to pony up his $10.

COCHRAN RETAINS LEAD IN CUE MATCH

Overcomes Schaefer's Advance in 18:2 Play—Score Is 1,200 to 1,146.

After another spectacular struggle, afternoon and night, in their 1,800 point match at 18:12 at Daly's Seventh Avenue room, in which the advantage remained, Walker Cochran, the Iowa prodigy, again came from behind and was in the lead by 64 points when hostilities ceased for the day. The total points for two days play were 1,200 for Cochran and 1,146 for Schaefer.

When the night game started Cochran was 104 points behind his rival, and as Schaefer, 40 in his tenth and divided his cluster of 108 buttons, collected through superior all around play, the outlook for the Iowa was gloomy. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.

With the tenacity of a bull terrier Cochran stuck to his task, and after a good run of 70 in his fourth settled down to business and scored with the greatest regularity.

Gathers 110 in Eighth Inning. He put 110 together in his eighth inning, and followed in the tenth with 114, Schaefer, 40 in his tenth and divided his cluster of 108 buttons, collected through superior all around play, the outlook for the Iowa was gloomy. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.

The average of 40-4-10 for 404 points sent Schaefer ahead of yesterday's average of 34-4-10 for 344 points. The large crowds that attended both afternoon and evening voted the match one of the best exhibitions of scientific billiards ever seen in many months. The final block of 600 points will be played this afternoon and evening, and there promises to be a sharp struggle for the winning button.

Schaefer rallied strongly in the afternoon game. He lost only made up the 34 points which Cochran led but also ran out his 360 of the block while the Iowa was counting 126. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.

Schaefer, 40 in his tenth and divided his cluster of 108 buttons, collected through superior all around play, the outlook for the Iowa was gloomy. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.

Schaefer, 40 in his tenth and divided his cluster of 108 buttons, collected through superior all around play, the outlook for the Iowa was gloomy. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.

Schaefer, 40 in his tenth and divided his cluster of 108 buttons, collected through superior all around play, the outlook for the Iowa was gloomy. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.

Schaefer, 40 in his tenth and divided his cluster of 108 buttons, collected through superior all around play, the outlook for the Iowa was gloomy. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.

Schaefer, 40 in his tenth and divided his cluster of 108 buttons, collected through superior all around play, the outlook for the Iowa was gloomy. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.

Schaefer, 40 in his tenth and divided his cluster of 108 buttons, collected through superior all around play, the outlook for the Iowa was gloomy. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.

Schaefer, 40 in his tenth and divided his cluster of 108 buttons, collected through superior all around play, the outlook for the Iowa was gloomy. Schaefer, however, made a game in a bunch in his fourth inning, which did not improve Cochran's chances of winning.